The Industry's Most Versatile Table Design

Epilog integrates an engraving plate, vector cutting grid, and vacuum hold-down table as standard features in the Legend Elite Series. Epilog's patented, interchangeable, multi-function design allows you to switch between the robust Vector Cutting Table or a super-strong Engraving Task Plate in seconds without any tools.

Maximum Utility

The Vector Cutting Table is an indispensable tool used to reduce backside reflection resulting in cleaner, more presentable edges. When used in vector cutting mode, the vector grid exhausts from the bottom side as well as from the top, providing more efficient evacuation of smoke and combustible gases.

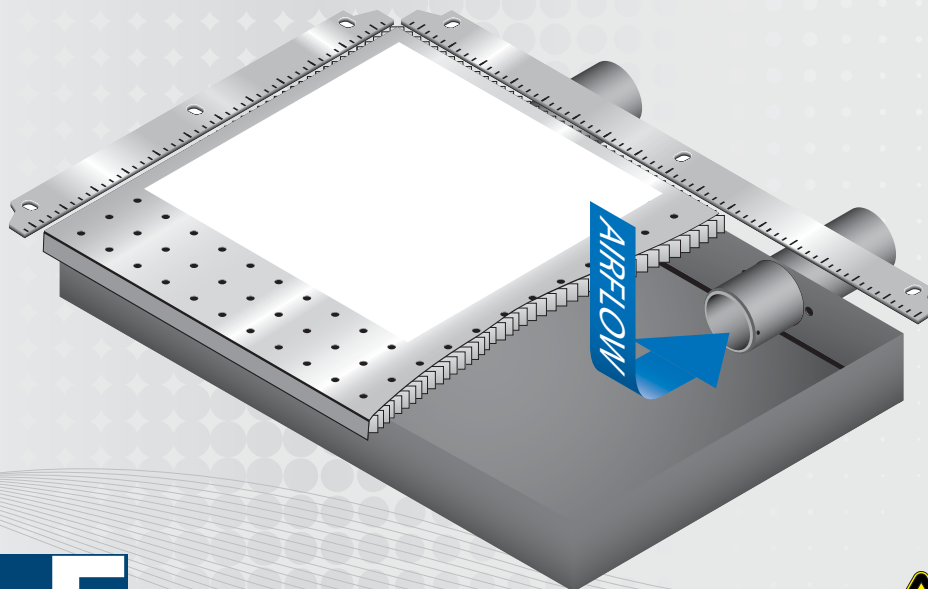

The Engraving Task Plate is a general-purpose table surface used for all projects that do not include vector cutting. It's easily removable when cleaning is needed.

Robust Design

A solid 1" (25.4 mm) thick aluminum honeycomb grid is used for the Vector Cutting Table and Task Plates on the Mini 24, Helix and EXT systems. This robust grid design stays flat and provides maximum support for very consistent focus over the entire work surface. So strong and durable, the vector table is under warranty for the same length of time as the machine!

Vacuum Hold-Down Table

Both the Task Plate and Vector Table serve as vacuum tables to hold down warped materials. Many large pieces of material like plastic, paper, wood veneer, and thin metal sheet are often slightly warped and need to be held flat to keep proper focus across the entire work area. By drawing air down through the table as well as across, a vacuum holds down all but the most severely warped or bent materials. This patented, multi-table design eliminates the need for using tape or other mechanical methods to hold down your material. It's the most useful and innovative tool available in a laser system.
